The WOMEN'S CLUBS

Thursday Afternoon Club.

The Thursday Afternoon club was entertained on Friday by Mrs. J. Ross Dickson, Mrs. C. F. Coleworthy and Mrs. Fred Lockley, and was the most delightful afternoon of the season. Selecting this as the best in choosing from an embarrassment of riches. The subject, "The Husband," was unique and gave a broad field for original work which was proven by the entertaining papers that were given. On the theme, "The Ideal Husband," Mrs. T. C. Taylor spoke from notes, and said in part that the ideal man was largely a creature of education and environment, and it required the ideal wife to model the perfect man.

Mrs. James A. Fee, in an original paper, treated the "Real Man" in an ideal manner and cited from the past to prove that the strong character who went forth to battle with life, returning with honor and in triumph, would necessarily carry back some scars. He could not be all saint and no sinner.

Mrs. John Halley on "The Husband's Allowance, and How He Should Spend It," gave a strong, bright paper, full of pertinent suggestions. She was of the opinion that he ought, at least, be able to buy boxes of candy for the young ladies without creating a storm at home; that he should be given as liberal an allowance for "pipe" money as she of "pin" money and it should not be doled out as occasion demanded.

"The Ideal Wife, From a Husband's Standpoint," written by Peter West, was an able, witty and interesting paper and created a great deal of merriment among the ladies. A paper on "How to Roast a Husband," was read by Mrs. A. J. Owen and was "done" in splendid style.

Mrs. J. Ross Dickson, in excellent voice, sang "A May Morning," and "Because of You."

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, who were assisted by Miss Reba Ganz and Miss Rozene Epple.

Word has just been received by Mitchell that Martin in a 20-round go with Australian Tommy, broke his left wrist.

Mitchell has been attempting to secure a fight with Jack Madden, of Wallace, but that boxer is also laid up with a disabled hand. In a fight not inside a ring, Madden placed his fist too hard against his opponent's teeth and the mitt is being carried in a sling.

PRICES ARE REDUCED.

On Every Article in Joseph Basler's Stock—Going Out of Business Sale in Progress.

The big retiring from business sale at Joseph Basler's is attracting a great deal of attention among buyers of furniture, carpets, rugs, stoves, chinaware, etc., as the low prices being quoted on goods is a big incentive to buy now.

Basler proposes to retire from business January 1, when the remainder of his stock will be turned over to his successors. The sale is a genuine one, as the stock has got to be reduced to come within the limit of the purchase price, and it is absolutely necessary to dispose of the bulk of it.

People will find it to their advantage to call and examine the splendid stock handled by Basler, and get the retreating from business prices. A saving can be made on every article in the store, as a guarantee is given that everything is offered at less than regular prices.

HOT WATER FOR BAKER.

City May Be Heated From Hot Wells to Be Bored There.

A new enterprise is proposed for Baker City that may mean much to the business community as well as the ordinary property owner and householder. If the scheme carries it will revolutionize the fuel question in this city. Fuel here is now quite high in price, wood averaging $5 and coal $7 to $7.50 per ton, says the Baker City Democrat.

A local firm is in negotiation with Eastern capitalists to construct a plant for Baker City for the purpose of distributing natural hot water throughout the city, which can be utilized in the public buildings and residences for heating purposes. It has long been known springs of hot water are contiguous to this city. Several of these springs are now being utilized by the natatorium in the eastern suburbs of the city.

This company has just let a contract for the sinking of another 1500-foot well with the expectations of striking a vein of water much hotter than anything that has heretofore been used. It is supposed that the vein tapped at Hot Lake flows through this section and by deeper sinking can be cut here. If this is the case cheap heating for the people will soon be a reality.

The capitalists referred to are making further investigations and if conditions are found right, will do some experimental work and put in the necessary plant. Their agent is now on the ground.

The Peoples Warehouse has the best assortment of men's Dent and women's Dent gloves carried in Pendleton. Of the men's we wish to make particular mention at this time. We carry the silk-lined and the unlined, in colors tan, brown, grey and English red. Prices are $2.00 and $2.50 per pair. You can find cheaper gloves, but there are none better in the world than the Dent. You will find that a trial pair will be satisfactory both from the standpoint of fit and service.

You know the art department of the Peoples Warehouse is on the second floor and that is where the orchestra furnishes music, so you will have the pleasure of looking through the handsomest variety of art goods to be found in Pendleton and at the same time listen to the strains of sweet music manufactured by Prof. McMinn's orchestra.

For this Saturday night the Peoples Warehouse offers for sale a lot of white duck wash waists and a lot of fleece-lined waists, to close out the lot at 25 cents each.

William M. Spencer, a prominent business man of San Francisco, is believed to have jumped overboard from a steamer between Eureka and San Francisco.
